Preface

Mrs. L. L. Chapman of Smithfield, Virginia and Mrs. H. A. Knorr of Pine Bluff, Arkansas have issued, in attractive form, the "Marriages of Southampton County, Virginia, 1750-1800".

Mrs. Knorr now publishes a volume containing "The Marriages of Prince Edward County, Virginia" from 1754 (when the County was carved from Amelia) to 1810, - a very large number.

Mrs. Knorr asks me to say a word as to the importance of these marriage bonds or licenses.

As one who has done a considerable amount of genealogical research, I am in a position to know how wide spread is the interest in the records of Prince Edward. I have, in the past twenty-five years, received many hundreds of letters from forty states and from foreign countries making inquiries about ancestors, the majority of them connected with this county.

Fortunately the Prince Edward records, marriage licenses, will books, deed books and order books (Minutes of the Court) are in excellent condition and from day to day there are visitors from all over the United States seeking ancestral data at the Court House in Farmville. A special room with chairs and tables is provided.

The marriage bonds (licenses) are the key to further information in the pursuit of ancestors.

From Prince Edward have come officers and private soldiers in the French and Indian wars; two generals in the War of the Revolution and many lesser officers and soldiers; officers and soldiers in the War of 1812 and the Mexican War; one General and a large number of other officers and soldiers in the war of 1861-1865. General Joseph E. Johnston, Commander of the Army of the Tennessee was a native of Prince Edward. So were Major R. L. Dabney, Chief of Staff to General Stonewall Jackson; Andrew Reid Venable, Inspector General and on the Staff of General J. E. B. Stuart; Colonel Charles Scott Venable was on the Staff of General Robert E. Lee.

Eight governors of Virginia and other states are to her credit; Judges of State Supreme Court; one United States Senator and one member of the Cabinet; dozens of authors in the fields of literature, the Church, education and medicine. One of her sons was Dr. J. P. Mettauer, a pioneer in surgery and of national reputation. To the pulpit of the various denominations she has furnished her share of the great.

Members of Constitutional Conventions in Virginia and in other states have been conspicuous; Presidents of Colleges, likewise. In the 1830's and 1840's at old Prince Edward Court house (now Worsham) was the celebrated Young Ladies Seminary with over 200 pupils. Hampden-Sydney College was established in 1775; Longwood College for Women was opened in 1884 and the Presbyterian Seminary for men in 1823.

Surely Prince Edward takes a high place among her sister Counties of Virginia.

Mrs. Knorr is to be commended for her present publication.

Foreword

No volume of the Marriages of Prince Edward County could have been possible without two superb genealogists - that grand old scholar, Dr. Joseph D. Eggleston and that pattern of generosity, Mrs. William S. Morton.

Long ago Dr. Eggleston made a transcription of the original bonds and no one without a thorough knowledge of Prince Edward names and people could have accurately read the old script.

Mrs. Morton copied the ministers' returns, a most laborious task as the ink was faded and the writing small and difficult to read. We owe them immeasurable gratitude.

Prince Edward was named for Edward Augustus, son of Frederick, Prince of Wales. In 1753 an Act was introduced to separate the present Prince Edward from Amelia, the establishment of the new county taking place in 1754 ("Virginia Counties" by Robinson p 189). The first minutes of the new county are recorded in the County Court Orders 1754-1758. John Le Neve served as the first Clerk from 1754 to 1783 then Francis Watkins succeeded him serving from 1783 to 1825. The first Court House was at the village of Worsham near the location of Hampden-Sydney College. Farmville, the present county seat was established 1798.

It gives me great pleasure to acknowledge here the courtesy of the County Clerk, Mr. Horace Adams and his assistants, Mrs. Robert B. Wilson and Mrs. Richard Tunstall. It was very pleasant working in their new, comfortable record room, knowing they were near at all times to call on if and when I needed help.

So, I give you Prince Edward Marriages. Dr. Eggleston sums up the importance of the marriages when he says "The marriage bonds are the key to further information in the pursuit of ancestors." This volume contains the marriage bonds and the ministers' returns, an aggregate of 1303 entries.
